Heat reduced how many corals reached the final regrowth stage

Violin width scales with the number of corals that reached each stage; X marks corals still short of a stage by Day 15.

Boxes and means appear only where all fragments at both temperatures reached the stage.
Points and violin shapes for incomplete stages describe only fragments that reached them; X marks retain the others.