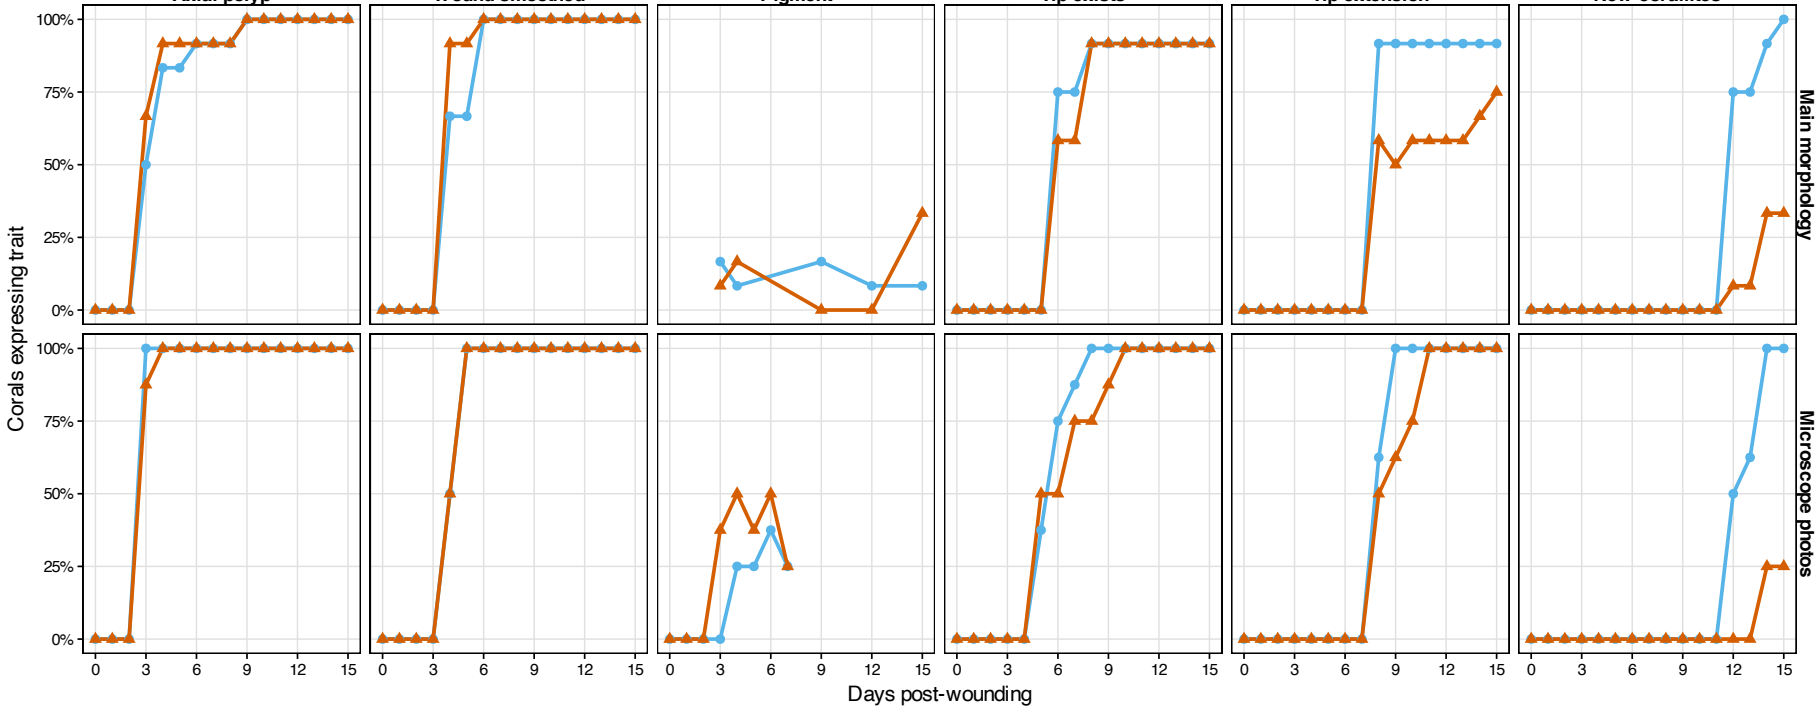
Shared morphology traits show the same closure-versus-regeneration split

Main morphology and microscope/photo cohorts are separate datasets; shared axes make the visual comparison explicit.



Points are observed treatment-level proportions. Microscope pigment was scored through D7 only.