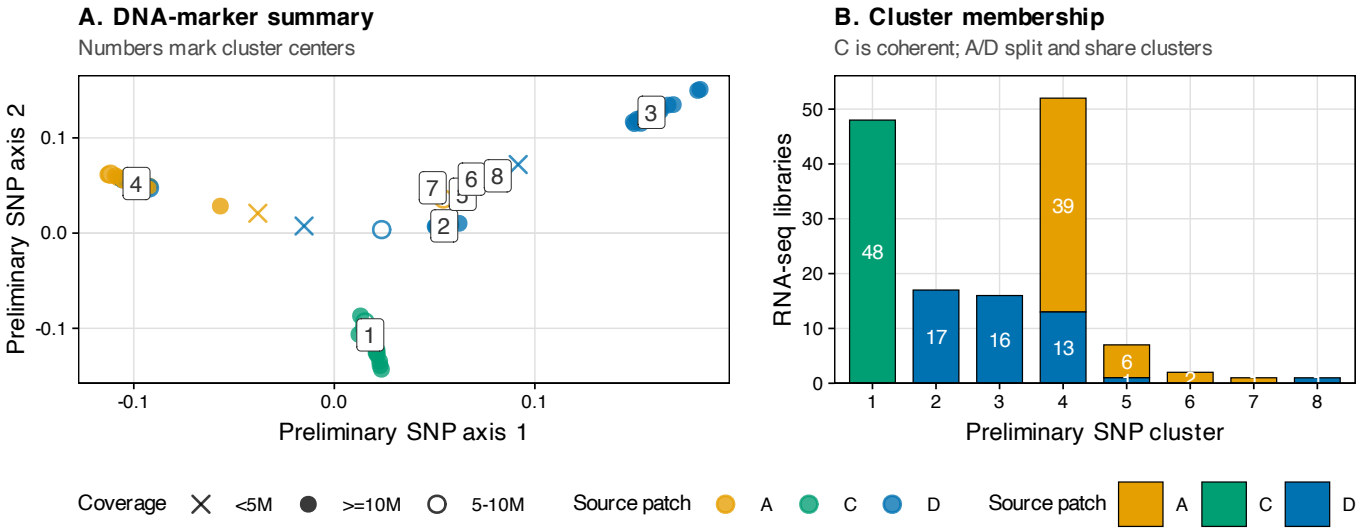
Preliminary SNP clusters revise the source-patch interpretation

Rachael's 2026-09-02 file is preliminary. It supports source patch C as one coherent cluster, while source-patch labels A and D include multiple clusters and share some clusters.



Coverage bands are descriptive only; Rachael flagged low-coverage values as lower-confidence but did not provide a final quality-control threshold. These clusters should be replaced by the final SNP set when available.