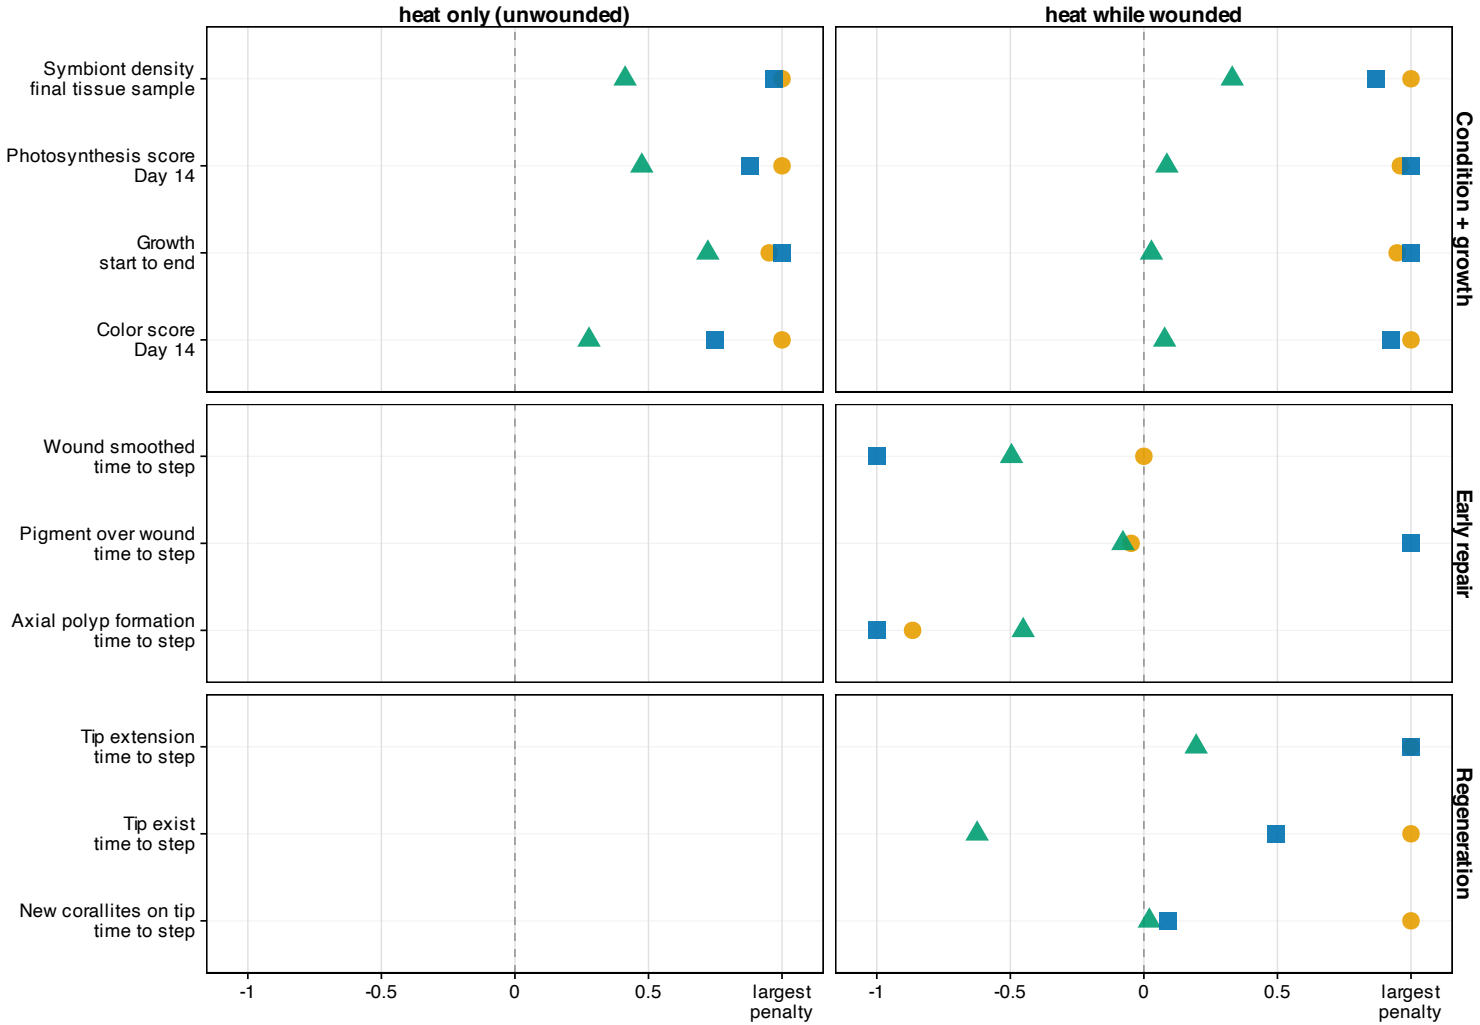
Heat penalty by wound state

Whole-coral panels compare 31 °C with 28 °C separately for wounded and unwounded fragments. Healing/regrowth panels use wounded fragments and the time when each step appeared.



Values are scaled within each measurement and wound-state group. Positive values mean a larger heat penalty; negative values mean the 31 °C group reached a healing/regrowth step faster or had a higher final value.