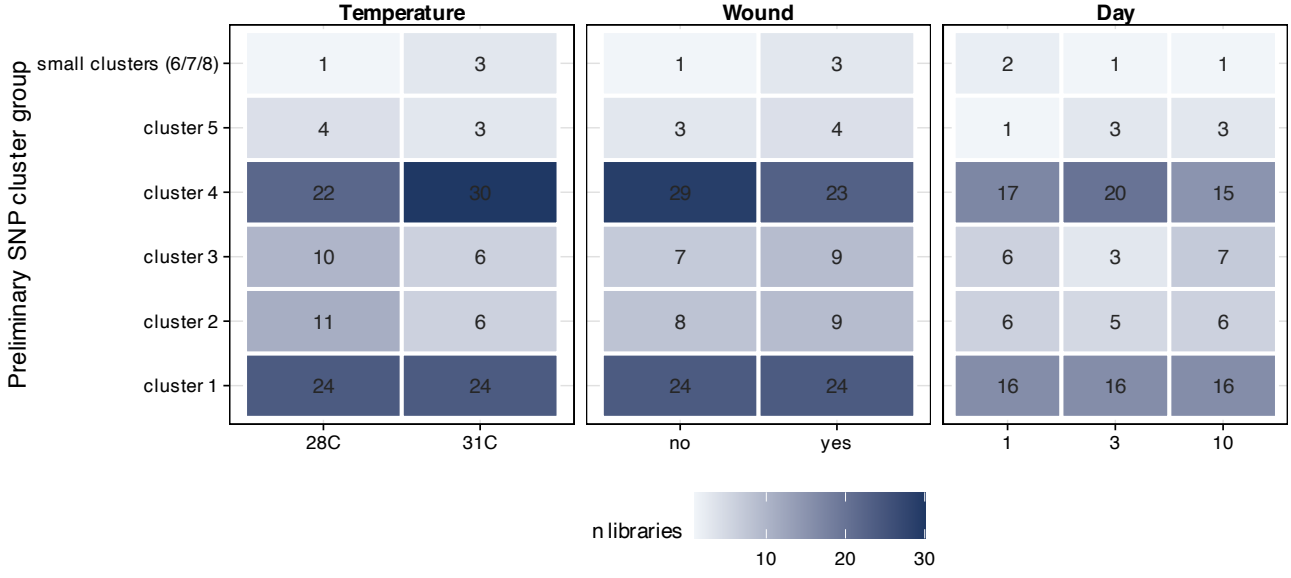
Preliminary SNP clusters are after-the-fact design groups


The RNA-seq design is balanced by source patch, temperature, wound state, and day. SNP clusters split A and D after the fact, so cluster-level treatment cells are uneven and should be treated cautiously.